(Interview 1)

1. Screening

- Behaviors: Engaged in football and boxing. Started participating last month.

2. Last-Time Story

- Behaviors: Went to a recreational building to box with friends. Put bands on his hands with the help of the coach, which took a long time. Practiced on bean bags in groups while in a straight position, switching to improve. Relies on repetition for practice.
- Opinions: Hates doing weights because he finds them tiring. Gauges his improvement by his ability to dodge and defend better in soccer, and move better in boxing. Believes a marker of progress would be if he can "break" someone's jaw. Doesn't feel the need to keep track of results.

(Interview 2)

1. Screening

- Behaviors: Played the piano and participated in cheerleading. Participated in an end-of-year concert a few months ago. Made jewelry for her mother.
- Opinions: Is currently considering taking a drawing course.

2. Last-Time Story

- Behaviors: Practiced the piano. Played at her grandmother's place and alongside her friends. Asks other people for feedback to see if she is improving. Watched videos, saw things in person with a friend, and shared her notes. Tracks zero of her progress. Saved a video of the performance in her phone gallery.
- Opinions: Made the jewelry for her mother simply because she liked it. Finds it hard to know if she is actually improving or how long improvement will take. Feels that writing things down causes her to forget a lot.

3. Alternatives

- Opinions: Believes her friend is much better at tracking progress, which she thinks makes it easier for that friend to know if they are getting better or not.

4. Switching Story

- Behaviors: Keeps her progress and activities to herself.
- Opinions: Considered using an app to track progress but decided not to. Prefers keeping things to herself because she feels less pressure. Is considering sharing her activities with more people in the future. Feels she is getting more creative.

- Opinions: Believes improvement comes through practice and adjusting his swing by comparing two different videos. Prefers to keep track of things in his mind rather than formally documenting everything.

- Opinions: Couldn't think of tracking anything else at the moment.

- Opinions: Considered getting golf lessons to improve, but feels he hasn't done it yet due to the time commitment. Feels work was the reason he had to stop his boxing membership.

5. Money and Time

- Behaviors: Goes to the driving range on a week-by-week basis. Paid for a subscription for his golf tracking app.
- Opinions: Feels the time he spends depends entirely on how often he goes to the driving range.

- Opinions: Knows a few other people who golf. Could not think of anything else to add to the interview.
